CUBA.

Havana, Nov. 18.—The steamer Virginius arrived here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. She entered the harbor flying the Spanish colors at her mast-head. A procession was formed, consisting of the Isabella La Catolica and another man-of-war in advance, the Virginius following and the Tornado in the rear. They passed up the harbor, the shores of which were lined with crowds of citizens. There was some cheering along the lines of spectators as the Tornado passed.

Official Report of the Capture.

Castillo, the commander of the Tornado has made the following report of the chase, capture, and boarding of the Virginius to the naval authorities at Havana. It is dated from Santiago de Cuba.

In conformity with orders received by me, as commander of the corvette Tornado, to carefully watch the coast between Cape Cruz and Santiago de Cuba, I left the latter port on the 26th of October. On that night I cruised in close proximity to the land between the points indicated, being led to believe by certain calculations that, whatever might be the manœuvres of the Virginius during the night, it was evident that during the day she must lie well off partly to avoid being seen and partly to reserve her resources until the proper moment for landing should arrive. During the night of the 30th inst. we continued our cruise without incident, and had started on a new course at daybreak the next morning, when the man on the lookout reported seeing the smoke s of steamer, proceeding in the direction of Jamaica. With the view of ascertaining what she was, and at the same time to save as much fuel as possible, we followed her hugging the coast for about eighteen miles when she changed he course to southeast by south.

From the first moment we saw her there was great activity on board, the whole of the steam power from all the boilers being brought into requisition, and at about half-past two o'clock in the afternoon we commenced to give chase.

The position and course of the vessel principally, if for no other reason, led me to believe that this craft was none other than the filibuster Virginius: for I imagined that she was proceeding from Jamaica to Cuba when we saw her, but failing under the circumstances, to land on the island of Cuba, she had turned about again for Jamaica. These suspicions were confirmed by her sudden change of course and the evident activity on board to make all the speed possible, as flames could be seen emanating with the smoke from her funnels. In addition to this we now saw, by the light of the moon, when she changed her tack, her two smoke-stacks and paddle-boxes. I instructed the engineer to carry on all steam possible and drive our vessel through the water as quickly as he could. Owing to the darkness we thought she was about five miles ahead, and hoped to overhaul her before she made Point Morante.

At 9.30, while in her immediate neighborhood, we fired five shots, and shortly afterwards sent out two boats, under the command of Don Enrique Pardo and Don Angel Ortiz, with orders to take possession of the Virginius in the name of the Spanish nation. The report of these officers has already been made, and I content myself with informing you that, at 11 o'clock at night, the Virginius, flying the Spanish flag, was headed towards Cuba, having on board a prize crew, after we had removed the bulk of the prisoners on board our vessel.

The cargo of arms and war munitions was thrown over-board during the chase, but the empty cases fell into our possession, including cartridges and other articles, which are included in the inventory which I have already handed in to the authorities.

The enthusiasm of the crew simply baffles description when succes crowned our efforts. The prisoners were treated with such consideration as their character deserved and the necessity of their safe-keeping demanded. The Virginius, under our convoy, reached Santiago de Cuba on November 1st, at 5 o'clock in the evening, when our arrival was made the signal of a genuine outburst of patriotic enthusiasm.

The importance of this expedition, when the number and rank of the prisoners are considered, cannot be overated. In addition to the severe lesson that we have given to the enemies of Spain, the capture has made the inhabitants of Santiago delirious with enthusiasm.

I make no reference to the conduct of our men, but will simply say that their conduct, from the highest to the lowest, is worthy of all praise, and when I say that the men were Spaniards working for Spanish interest, you will understand all. Upon my arrival in port here I gave official information of the capture to the authorities, and what must now follow has to be dictated by the officers of justice. In conclusion, I have only to add that I congratulate all the officers of the Tornado, from the highest to the lowest, for the severe lesson that they have given to the enemies of their country.

DIONISIO CASTELLA.

SPANISH RULE.

The Struggle for Freedom in Cuba.

Previously to the present struggle in Cuba the revenues of the island outside of municipal taxes amounted to $26,000,000 a year. Of this about $20,000,000 a year were expended in Cuba for support of a standing army of 20,000 regulars and a fleet composed of about forty vessels, besides the support of 14,000 Spanish officials employed in the civil government of the island. These officials were always and now are Spaniards sent from Spain to Cuba. The Cuban people were not allowed to participate in the administration of the affairs of the island except in local matters. The net revenues of Cuba to Spain before the insurrection were thus about $6,000,000 a year. This money was sent to Madrid. The municipal taxes were large, (about $10,000 a year,) amounting in Havana alone to $1,200,000.

In 1869 (after the conflict had been some time in progress) the estimate of the expenses of the Spanish Government in Cuba was between $36,000,000 and $37,000,000 Since the campaign of 1868-'9 opened Spain has absorbed all the revenues of Cuba (besides creating a bonded debt there amounting to $70 000,000,) in carrying on the war against the insurgents. There has been no official record submitted whereby the exact revenues can be ascertained, but they have undoubtedly been much less during the war than before. The territory in the interior occupied by the insurgent Cubans is of a productive character, and the sugar raised there has yielded no revenue to the Spanish Government. Many sugar plantations belonging to insurgents were seized and cultivated by the Spanish authorities; but, by reason of corruption and incompetency, the revenues from this source were very small. It is charged and generally admitted that the affairs of Cuba, as regards the collection and disbursement of revenues, have been outrageously corrupt.

In 1869 the Cuban revolutionists are understood to have had 50,000 men in the field at one time, but they were very poorly armed. They were so determined, however, that instances were frequent in battle where men who were armed simply with the machette (cane-knife) burst through the lines, regardless of their lives, in friendly race with each other for the arms and ammunition of dead Spaniards. Since the war commenced nearly 40,000 Cubans—according to the records—have been executed by the Spaniards. How many have been killed in battle is not ascertained for want of a record. The Spaniards killed in battle and executed by the revolutionists have amounted to about 75,000.

The volunteers, forming the bulk of the Spanish army in Cuba, have proved utterly uncontrollable. It was their open mutiny that compelled the resignation of Captain General Dulce, and it is understood that they have dictated the removal of several others. No Captain General has yet felt that his life was safe in the hands of his own troops. The chief officers, civil and military, are all drawn from Spain, and are paid salaries amounting to $50,000 a year for a captain general, $12,000 a year for a district commander, and so on.

These volunteers hate the Spanish soldiers, but are more intensely bitter against the Cubans. They hate Americans, too. The Cuban patriots love Americans. They say they have fought four years and a half, and the way for the United States to get even with Spain now is to recognize the belligerent rights of the Cubans. This, they say, would enable them to negotiate their bonds and encourage privateering. Spain has possession of every seaport and every fort on the island. All the Cubans want is a seaport and a gunboat to hold it with, so that they can protect their vessels in the act of landing and afterwards.

LYNCHBURG AND DANVILLE R. R.

The bridge across Staunton river on this road will be completed by Saturday next; the 15th inst., and the train will then pass over it. The track is already completed as far as the bridge, and on Monday next track-laying south of the river will be commenced and will be vigorously prosecuted. There are now at the river 70 car loads of rail ready to be laid: and the ties being all in place, nothing but bad weather can interrupt the work.—Lynchburg News.

Two hundred and forty feet only of the Hoosac tunnel remain to be completed. The opening of the tunnel will give Boston a new outlet to the West, and as far as the connection of the Eastern seaboard with the inland States is concerned, it will be the most important event of the year. Work on the tunnel was commenced in 1850, and it has therefore been nearly fourteen years in progress. The total length of the bore is little less than five miles; with twenty-four feet of height. It is inferior only to the Mt. Cenis tunnel, which is seven miles in length.

THE CUBAN SITUATION.

One sad aspect of the difficulties which now threaten Cuba may be found in the certainty that upon a very slight provocation the Spanish free blacks, numbering 25,000, and the native Cubans of equal strength, will rise some day in bloody insurrection in the city of Havana. Fifty thousand blood-thirsty wretches, seeking vengeance for wrongs, real and imaginary, will some time in the not far distant future electrify and horrify the civilized world with a record of a night's butchery and cruel massacre. Naturally the native Cubans are a peaceable and patient people, while the Spanish-speaking blacks have for centuries submitted to the odious impositions of proscription and the discriminations of law against their interests, until they have deservedly won a reputation for humility and quiet. But the latent devil lurking in their veins, through which courses the hot blood of the tropics, once aroused, they will lay aside that humility to assume the character of fiends. Havana, then, rests to-day upon a volcano, and the eruption may come at any hour. In the meantime let us hold the parties responsible for the policy which provokes these people to seek vengeance to a strick accountability. They must know the danger which surrounds them, and knowing it should make provision to avert it. But their conduct is such as to hasten their impending doom. Promise after promise has been made by them to reform the abuses under which the people are becoming so restive; but not a single promise has been fulfilled. The island has no regular or direct representation in the Government; slavery exists throughout its length and breadth, and it is ruled by officials of Spanish birth, who are naturally the enemies and oppressors of the natives. No wonder, then, that the people groan and complain. These facts are often used now-a-days as arguments to prove that it is the duty of the United States, not only as an act of humanity, but in preservation of our own rights and privileges, to assume the responsibility of a protectorate over the island. We know very well that under existing circumstances the American people suffer in the loss of profits from the Spanish discriminations against our commerce with Cuba more than the cost of a war with Spain; but we have had no pretext heretofore to forcibly demand a revocation or moderation of those discriminations. Now that the pretext for such a demand is furnished by the outrage against our flag committed by the Spanish authorities we would be craven, indeed, not to take advantage of it. But it is to be hoped that force will not be required. However blind the Spanish authorities in Cuba may be to their own interests and disregardful of ours, or cruel and inhuman in the conduct of the administration of affairs on the island, there is every reason to believe that President Castellar is in earnest when he promises a satisfactory solution of the pending difficulties. It is true that he may not be able to execute his designs or desires, and that his orders for that purpose may be disobeyed, and we may as well begin now to calculate the responsibility which will rest upon us as a Government if they are disobeyed; but we must not forget that our duty as a civilized nation amenable to the requirements of positive as well as indefinite civilized international law, demands patience in this extremity. We can afford to wait a reasonable length of time for developments, and to trust the honesty of Castellar's purpose until Congress meets. The war power of the Government, it must be remembered, rests with Congress, and while it must be admitted that we have cause for serious complaint, prudence requires that the utmost caution should characterize the deliberations of that body. Let the press possess its soul with patience, and, remembering the gravity of the questions involved, forbear from exciting and incendiary appeals to the unthinking prejudices of the people.

Says the Bridgeport, Standard: 'Alas, we fear that our mortal eyes shall never again behold that Train rushing through our land, for just about the time that the people here recall him the people there demand that he ascend the throne of Queen Victoria, and they will so hang on to his coat-tails that he can never tear himself away from the shores of Albion.'

The prolongation of MacMahon's term as President of the French Republic, the National Republican thinks, means the ultimate restoration of the monarchy. A monarchist himself, every effort of his administration will be directed toward the annihilation of the Republic. The shadow of the kingdom or the empire projects over the present so-called government of the of the people, and is certain to grow longer and deeper as the months and the years glide by.

The manner of advertising for a husband in Java is by placing an empty flowerpot on the portico roof—which is as much as to say, 'Young lady here—husband wanted.'

THE GATLING GUN.

FORTRESS MONROE, VA., Nov. 17.—A second series of experiments with the Gatling gun, for the purpose of testing its efficiency against a regiment of infantry advancing by columns of companies, was tried here yesterday under the direction of the former board of officers, of which General Gilmore is president. For this purpose ten targets, one hundred feet in length, were placed at a distance of fifty feet apart, the first being one thousand yards from the gun. In the first trial six hundred shots were fired, of which five hundred and twenty-six struck the targets; but the party who was handling the gun did not have the proper range, and a second trial was had. In this, as in the former, six hundred rounds were fired, with the following results: The first target was struck three hundred and seven times, the second two hundred and forty-four, the third one hundred and five, the fourth twenty-four, the fifth one, the sixth none, the seventh four, the eighth three, and the ninth three, while the tenth was not touched. When it is stated that the targets were made of inch pine boards, and the targets were struck in all 691 times, the tremendous destructive power of this modern implement of war can be fully realized. The time consumed in firing these six hundred rounds was very short, and had it been in reality a regiment advancing, even on the double quick, the gun could have been worked with such effect that scarcely a man would have lived to reach it.

After the experiments were completed the operator turned his gun on a flock of ducks out in the bay, and before they realized their danger half a dozen of them were killed, proving that it might be used with success in this branch of business.

A SALOON EPISODE.

The New York Tribune tells the following story:

A man named Weibold entered a saloon in India street, Brooklyn, E. D; last Saturday, and called for a glass of beer. After drinking, he seated himself in a chair in the centre of the room, and soon after began to stare at the proprietor, who imagined the customer to be deeply engaged in thought. The saloon keeper, desiring to go out, asked the visitor to attend to his affairs in his absence, and although there was no reply, he took it for granted that as request would be complied with, and, immediately left the saloon. A little while afterward he returned, and the visitor still sat upright and motionless near the table. The brewer who supplied the restaurant keeper with beer soon afterward came in and invited all hands to drink. The man at the table failed to respond, and the saloon-keeper, becoming enraged at his indifference, came from behind the counter, pulled him out of his chair, dragged him to the bar, and shoved a glass of beer toward him. As the proprietor withdrew his hand from the collar of the visitor, the latter sank to the floor, and the startlingl discovery was made that Weibold was dead. He had probably expired immediately after drinking the glass of beer, and had been a corpse for more than an hour. Coroner Whitehill held an inquest in the case yesterday, and it was ascertained that Weibold had died of heart disease.

THE GALLANT KHEDIVE.

[From a Washington Letter.]

As an instance of Said Pasha's wealth, Mr. Butler relates that the Empress of France said to him, in Paris:

'Viceroy, I should like very much to visit your pyramids, but I cannot ride on a camel, and I suppose I cannot go there by any road.'

'Your majesty can go there by either railway or highway, as you like,' said the Viceroy.

When she went there, at the opening of the Suez canal, the Empress found a road made, twelve miles long, across the desert, lighted with gas, shaded all the way with transplanted trees, and half way on was a place to entertain her at the pyramids—all especially made for this one journey. And yet, such is the kinship at times, that when the Khedive attempted to renovate Cairo by taking stones from the pyramids, he felt that the rebuke of the press and voice of Europe could not be withstood, and he ceased to disturb these useless conundrums. He is building an iron bridge across the Nile, English work, which will cost $12,000,000. The Suez canal cost him $100,000,000, and is only a partial success, as it fills up as soon as neglected, and the screw fleet to pass through it is yet small. Lesseps, the ex-, Mr Butler believes to be one of the wisest men in the world, and never with less than from half a million to a million of money lying on deposit. The Viceroy is the owner of a narrow gauge railroad from Cairo to Suez, 76 miles, and from Alexandria to Cairo, 130 miles. He is now building one up the Nile from Cairo 200 or 300 miles.

It is said of a Western editor that he is a fearful penman, the style of his hand being a cross between a twisted wire clothes line & a Virginia worm fence. # Hillsborough Recorder.

WEDNESDAY.....DEC. 3. 1873.

LEGISLATURE.

The proceedings of the past week have neither been interesting or important. Both bodies are at work, and expect to adjourn sine die by Christmas. At present the most important part of their work is in the hands of Committees who are yet to report; the most important is that on the Public Debt. No doubt the Committee will report a repudiation of the special tax bonds, and a proposition to settle the remainder on the basis of a compromise. With the effort however now going on to enforce a recognition of the special tax bonds through the powers of the Federal Court, the Legislature will not be over zealous to act, because it feels the indignity of an attempted coercion.

The Public Printing has not been definitely settled. It was understood on Saturday that it would be given to the Sentinel, but the refusal of the House to concur in the resolution of the Senate, to make an approval of the contracts of the committee on printing subject to the approval of the Legislature, and the addition to the original numbers of the Committee may yet make an unexpected disposition of the matter.

RAIL ROAD CONSOLIDATION.

We spoke of the proposition of the Governor in his annual message for the amendment of the charter of the North Carolina R. R. and its consolidation with other connecting roads, as a magnificent scheme.

It is truly so, commending itself to the demands of the west for an outlet, to the necessities of the Atlantic Road for a release from its burdens, and to the cupidity of those whose claims are to be satisfied by the necromancy of mortgage sales; but finding little favor among the bond holders of the parent road, or among the stock holders who are loth to part with the last hope they have in the fruitfulness of their investments.

The Legislature is likely to act favorably upon the bill introduced by Col. Humphreys, providing for the purchase of the W. N. C. R. R. the Atlantic R. R. and such other roads as may be deemed necessary, and to do such other things as will be required to carry out the scheme. It is likely to pass the bill quietly, without contest and without alterations, because it will in the end be an act of superfluous legislation. Injunctions stand ready to meet a new organization at every step of its progress. Judge Bond has already granted one on the prayer of Swazy and others, restraining the N. C. R. R. from paying out any monies to the W. N. C. R. R. and from drawing any draft on the R. and D. R. R. for any part of the money due the N. C. R. R. by that company on account of the lease.

The Consolidation bill is the special order of the day for 12.30 on Tuesday. With the prospect attending the bill, the bond and stock holders have no need of apprehension, even should the bill pass, and there is no need for the farther waste of powder upon the scheme.

THE U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

This tribunal is in Session in the city of Raleigh. Judges Bond and Brooks both being present, and the Hon. Reverdy Johnston, Mr Brewster Attorney General of Pennsylvania, Mr. Budd of Philadelphia, and other distinguished gentleman from abroad, and the very elite of our own bar being present.

The first important case called was that of A. H. Swazy vs. the North Carolina R R. Co. Mr. Brewster announced a motion to sell the stock of that Company to pay the accrued interest on the bonds issued to buy the stock. He argued his case with great ability, and made a fine impression upon the bar. He was replied to by Mr. Gatlin, Mr. Smith, and Hon. W. H. Battle.

The object of the suit is to condemn the dividends to the State from the road to pay interest upon the bonds, which interest now amounts to $500,000. The bonds are not due till 1883–4. The defence contested on several grounds, denying that the pledge of the State for the principal of the debt included the interest: that the contract was to look to the dividends, and to the money in the Treasury for the payment of the interest. That the State is not a party, and as she had the legal title to the Stock, no Court would order the sale of the property: that the sale would amount to nothing because this was an imperfect mortgage. The legal title would not pass.

The Court will decide the question soon.

The case of Self, the special tax Injunction case was taken up, and argued on the part of the Plaintiff by W. J. Budd of Philadelphia, and by K. P. Battle and John Gatlin for defendants. No decision has yet been rendered.

In the meantime the Treasurer has seemed to regard the notice served upon him, as operating as an injunction, and has been paying out on all duly authenticated warrants.

THE WAR CLOUD BROKEN.

The whole country was much excited by the Telegram, emanating from the office of the New York Herald at midnight of the 27th, in which it was demonstanted that war was unavoidable. It was represented that Sickles had exhausted all the arts of diplomacy; that the Spanish Government had refused to entertain the subject of concession and reparation; and that nothing was left but the ultima ratio regum. WAR with all its horrors and its uncertain results.

The feelings of the whole country had been wrought up to such a pitch of indignation at the cruelties of the Cuban authorities, that it was quite ready to accept the issue, and watched the preparations of this government with grim satisfaction.

Nevertheless, it receives with equanimity, if not entire pleasure, the information conveyed by subsequent telegrams, that Spain has made every concession possible; that she has agreed to surrender the Virginius; to restore such prisoners as had not been executed; to make compensation to the families of those who perished, and to salute the flag of the United States.

The South has little reason to desire war. Peace is her interest and her policy. The wounds of our own war are far from being healed. The repairs to her shattered industry are only just begun. Misgovernment and the ascendancy of thieves in her counsels, and the administration of her affairs, have continued her in a state of poverty little less great than were wrought by the ravages of an invading enemy, while her indebtedness is infinitely greater than it ever was. Peace and quiet, internal and external, are what are indispensably necessary for her recuperation.

Yet the impulses of a generous sympathy, and the impatience of wrong and cruelty would have made her foremost in the contest if one would have occurred, and no blur upon her patriotism, no imputations upon her courage, could possibly have been made. The American government would have found the South, where it always has been in the presence of a foreign foe, the first to advance and the last to recede.

It is too early to say, that this last dispatch definitely settles the question of peace or war. It may be that an unforeseen turn may in a few days restore the probabilities of hostilities. And the government seems to share in the doubtful aspect of affairs, since the warlike preparations continue with increased activity, and the concentration of the American fleet at Key West has not been countermanded. But the chances now are decidedly in favor of a peaceful adjustment of the difficulties; a conclusion in which the true friends of the country will find every reason to rejoice.

PREPARATION FOR WAR.

The interested diplomacy of Mr. Fish, and the desire of the Spanish executive to keep on good terms with the United States, may yet result in the preservation of peace. In the meantime there is no lack of preparation. Nearly the whole naval force of the United States has been ordered to rendezvous in Cuban waters. The squadron on the South American coast has been recalled, as has also the Pacific squadron. The East India fleet has been notified of the State of affairs, and put upon its guard. Activity in the Navy yards is very great, and probably 20,000 men have been put to work on the unfinished vessels, and those needing repair. The whole iron-clad fleet will be put in order, and probably in commission.

The condition of the Army is also being looked after, and the ordnance and small arm department put on the best footing. The manufacture of cartridges is going on on an immense scale, and if war is the result, the United States will be ready for the conflict.

CONVICTION OF TWEED.

Every now and then some victim is offered up in the New York Courts to appease offended justice; some sacrifice made to propritiate the popular demand for vengeance. It is doubtful whether the infliction of punishment is to be regarded as a return towards public virtue, or whether from an impulse of fear.

Wealth has such a fearful power in the North, and an absolute control over justice and over conscience, that the triumph of either excites more astonishment than the convictions of the most flagrant criminal. Foster was hung, but Stokes escaped with slight punishment. Tweed is convicted, but who will venture to say, that the defaulting bank officers, and others quite as criminal, will not go scot free? The principle is not yet fixed that guilt must meet its deserts. The casual display of firmness in a Judge and of honesty in a jury does not define a limit beyond which crime hereafter will not dare to pass. The tide of reform may be on the turn, but it has not yet set in with sufficient strength to justify a reliance upon its unvarying action.

But the sentence of Tweed to 12 years imprisonment in the county jail, the conviction of one who ran riot with the peoples' money, and who for so long laughed defiantly at the threats and penalties of the law, may be accepted as a hopeful sign, and as a beginning of more hopeful and purer period.

A BRAKE ON PATRIOTISM.

Recruiting for the Navy which began very actively at the North, has received a sudden check from the circumstance that the whites and the blacks are compelled to mess together. This is a dose which the northern people are anxious to force down the throats of the South, but which is quite unpalatable when presented to their own lips.

These race prejudices are instinctive things, and cant be done away with by acts of Congress. Nature will rebel, though law enforces.

The only remedy is, in the army to have negro regiments, and in the Navy, a class of vessels manned exclusively by negroes—if it is necessary to use them at all.

TOBACCO MARKET.

There is no change yet to note, and no up ward movement in the Market, the New York Tobacco Leaf of the 26th says that the prospect of war with Spain has had a depressing effect. This would be the result with all Southern staples, and will demonstrate that war is not in the interest of the South.

COTTON MARKET.

There has been great activity during the last week, and a marked advance in prices. New York 28th uplands 16. Raleigh 28th low middlings 14½. The dispatches from New York on that day were less favorable than those of the day before, and though no recession in prices, the sales were more languid.

LATEST BY TUESDAY'S MAIL.

The Steamer Ville de Paris from New York for Havre collided with the British Ship Lochearn and sunk. Two hundred and twenty passengers were drowned.

Tweed has been sent to Blackwells Island.

Grange Lecture.

Mr. James M. Means will deliver a Grange lecture in this place on the 11th inst, with a view of organizing a Grange. A large attendance is desirable.

Congress met on Monday.

Consecration of Dr. Lyman in Raleigh on the 11th inst.

Wilmington Fair opens on the 9th inst.

Rev. W. Collin Hughes will officiate in St. Matthews Church on Wednesday the 3rd inst.

E. H. Pogue is progressing rapidly with his new tobacco factory which will be opened in the spring.

T. C. Ellis of Cedar Grove demands attention to his advertisement in this issue. He offers splendid inducements to buyers.

Ellis is the very embodiment of spirit and enterprise, and deserves the success he has met with.

The advertisement is a bona fide offer, and purchasers will stand in their own light who disregard it. Ellis owes his success to his energies, to his fair dealing and to his contentment with small profits.

A Nuisance.

Idle or mischievous persons are in the habit of shooting guns or pistols at night around the premises of Mrs. C. R. Owen to the great annoyance and perhaps danger of the family. The attention of the Town authorities is called to this violation of a town ordinance, and it is to be hoped that these reckless disturbers of the peace of an unprotected family will be made to pay the penalty of their sport or malice.

The Wilmington Star.

See Prospectus in this issue. The Star has established a reputation second to none in the State, for editorial ability, and a general spirit of newspaper enterprise. Its commercial reports are of great value for their accuracy, fulness and the promptness with which they are made. We commend the paper to our readers.

Work on Dr. Hooker's New Drug store is progressing rapidly, and in a short time the walls will be up and under cover.

Work on the other building before mentioned will be suspended until the Spring, owing to the difficulty of getting a sufficiency of brick laid now.

Maj. Graham has so far recovered from his injuries as to be out again.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

We call attention to the Advertisement of this splendid Journal in to day's issue. The Journal so well known under the management of Prentice, has lost nothing by its incorporation with the Courier, and the Curie Journal with Watterson at its head is quite as conspicuous for wit and talent as the Journal ever was. In general interest the paper has improved, being a far better newspaper, and sparkling with literary gems.

Only $2 a year for the weekly.

Loan and Building Association.

Why cannot Hillsboro engage in an institution of this kind? Everywhere it has been tried, it has proved a success. No machinery has ever been found half so effective in building up a town, because there is none by which houses can be erected so cheaply, and with such slight pressure upon the builders. The idea is worth consideration, and we throw it out that our people may think and act upon it before the adjournment of the Legislature.

Bakery Needed.

There is no convenience, the want of which is so seriously felt as a good bakery in this community. The unreliability and scarcity of yeast, and the consequent pressure upon housekeepers make a thing of this kind of the first importance. A good baker would do well here, and would be sure of steady and ample patronage.

The schools, of themselves, would almost maintain one, and when to this is added the demand of almost every family in the town, the support of it would be sure.

But the baker must be a good one, if he would succeed.

A Startling Truth!—Thousand die annually from neglected coughs and colds, which soon ripen into consumption, or other equally fatal diseases of the lungs; when by the timely use of a single bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry their lives have been preserved to a green old age.

Crime and its Immediate Punishment.

We wish to call attention to the triviality with which offences against property are treated in preliminary examinations before Magistrates, and the premium to crime which is offered by this levity. Within in a week or so, the store of one of the most prominent merchants here was robbed of considerable quantities of goods &c. the guilty parties arrested, tried before a Magistrate, and discharged on bail so ridiculously insufficient and irresponsible, that it almost amounts to an absolute discharge of the criminals, only dependent upon their own free will, whether they will come to trial or not.

This is not right. The laws are enacted for public protection, and it is the interest of all to see them enforced. No prosecutor has the right to condone an offence, either from tenderness of nature, or from personal interest, because in doing so he turns loose the offender to prey upon others. No Magistrate is justified on the facts and on proof, to liberate the accused upon bail so insufficient that a trial becomes a farce, and punishment an impossibility.

Justice is represented as blind that she may decide with absolute impartiality, but it does not follow that the Magistrate should be blind also. Justice holds the scales without seeing the contents, but when the balance preponderates against the offender, the Magistrate is expected to have his eyes wide open, to snatch the sword from the hand of Justice to execute her behests. Magistrates lose their individuality as men, and become for the time the abstract embodiment of law. They lose the right to consult their own feelings of interests, but must act fearlessly, impartially, and according to the full intent of the law.

We mention no names. The matter will be sufficiently understood here, but we may not be so considerate hereafter, if the practice of the acceptance of nominal bail is continued.

Thanksgiving Day.

The Southern people will not give into the custom of making this a notable holiday. With the New Englander, it absorbs all other festivals, and throws into insignificant relations all the time honored and revered days whose observance was sanctioned by the established church.

Puritanism rebelled against whatever bore the taint of popery, or had the marks of legitimacy upon it, and set up festivals and fasts of its own.

The Southern people cling with more tenacity to old traditions and customs and still look to Christmas with peculiar affection, as the centering point of the years hopes and joys.

They look therefore with little love upon the effort to engraft the Yankee holiday upon their custom, and while no more disinclined than the New Englander to a grateful recognition of the bountiful goodness of a tender Providence, are loth to be driven by legal enactments to a forced observance of their duty or inclination.

Hence there is always a cold acquiescence, and a very partial observance of the day, either as one of religious exercises, or as of social festivities.

There were services in St. Matthews church here on Thursday. We believe none of the other churches were opened.

We publish the following letter from Prof. Kerr to Mr. James Y. Whitted of this place, both as a matter of general interest, and also as a subject of pride that a Hillsboro Manufacturer took such high rank abroad. It is to be regretted that the entries were made too late to come in competition for premiums, and it affords another illustration of the slow way we are in the habit of doing things in North Carolina.

Had sufficient appropriations been made and had due diligence being used in getting into the field, North Carolina would have been fairly represented, and an immense impulse given to immigration by the details and illustration of North Carolina resources. As it is it is a matter of pride and gratification, that late as our State was at the exhibition, what she did display was classed in the highest rank.

The Tobacco exhibited was Mr. Whitted's Ambrosia, which has always taken the highest premium in all the Fairs, in and out of the State, wherever it has been entered.

RALEIGH, Nov. 20th, 1873.

Dear Sir:—Thanks for your kind wishes. I had a pleasant trip in many respects. The tobacco attracted a great deal of attention, as it was the only manufactured (chewing) to our exhibition, and was a great curiosity to the continentals, who I found don't know anything about chewing. The Americans and English present were crazy for it, as they had not been able to get any in Europe. I distributed about a dozen plugs as an advertisement among them. The box was left with everything else to the close of the Ex. (Nov.) and the agent left in charge was to dispose of on the best terms at the wind up and remit. He would probably have to sell to the English. You are of course aware that we started after the entries for premiums had closed, and sought only advertisement. That we got on a large scale, and I think that we shall hear from it.

Those of you who sent specimens did a service to the State as well as to yourselves, although neither your work nor mine is likely to find much appreciation or thanks in the region of such dense old Ripism.

Very truly yours, W. C. KERR.

Mr. W. S. Bynum of Lincolnton, a young lawyer of decided talent, has abandoned his profession for the purpose of preparing for the Ministry of the Episcopal Church.

We propose to furnish to all old subscribers on the renewal of their subscription and to all New subscribers, The HILLSBORO RECORDER and Wood's House hold Magazine (Monthly) for the extremely low price of $3.00 per year.

The Hillsboro Recorder is sufficiently well known, though it may not be amiss to say, that at the present time, it is behind no paper in News, or the appreciation of the subjects of the day, and no family in the town, county or adjoinging counties can well afford to do without it.

WOOD'S HOUSEHOLD MAGAZINE is published in Newburg, N. Y., and is now in its 13th volume. It has established its reputation as a chaste and intellectual periodical, and is one of the best family Journals we know of.

Send in your Subscriptions.

STATE ITEMS.

Col. W. P. Bynum has accepted the appointment of associate Justice of the Supreme Court tendered him by Governor Caldwell.

The Raleigh Sentinel of the 28th says a party of young negroes in attempting to cross Crabtree Creek just below Saters mill in a wagon drawn by a pair of mules, were swept down by the flood, the creek being much swollen, and three of them and the mules drowned.

The Wilmington Journal says, Capt. Poland, U. S. A. has been sent out by the War Department to inspect the fortifications at the mouth of the Cape Fear river, and ascertaine what may be necessary to put them in a complete state of defance.

Thanksgiving day was rainy and unlovely in Wilmington, and disappointed many plans for pleasure.

The Wilson Plain Dealer says a man by the name of Granger, a saddler, was found dead in front of his shop.

There are now at sea, bound for Wilmington, upwards of fifty square rigged vessels, mostly from European ports, to load with Naval stores. Three or four have sailed from Wilmington loaded with cotton for Liverpool, a beginning, it is to be hoped of an extensive and profitable "Direct Trade".

There was an alarm of fire in the Spring's Block in Charlotte, in which the Southern Home and Observer are printed. The fire was speedily subdued with a loss of about $150. The fire broke out in a room next to Gen. Hill's editorial chamber, and there was a sad disarrangement of books papers &c.

The Charlotte Fair is spoken of as a success, and was largely attended. The only circumstance that seems to have detracted from its interest and usefulness was the large number of gamblers, pickpockets, and other disreputable persons on the ground. Cannot this evil be controlled?

THE GEN. R. E. LEE MONUMENT.

The colossal monument to the memory of Gen Lee which is now rapidly being constructed under the direction and skill of Prof. Valentine, will, when completed, be the greatest triumph of art and mechanical skill ever produced in this country.—The structure will be surmounted by a reclining figure of Gen Lee enveloped in his military cloak. The form will be finely carved in marble, and the expression of countenance rendered with life-like correctness. In order to complete this grand monument at the earliest possible day, the Execute Committee of the Lee Memorial Association, of Lexington, Va., which is composed of such distinguished men as Gen Pendleton, Gen Terry, Hon. Wm. McLaughlin, Col. Preston Johnson, Col. Jas. K. Edmondson, Chas. Davidson, and others, have, by permission, authorized the publication and sale of a perfect life size steel engraved portrait of Gen'l Joseph E. Johnson. The proceeds of its sale to be applied in furtherance of the object of this Association, namely: to the erection of a monument to the memory of Gen'l R. E. Lee, at the Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. The portrait will be sold only by subscription, through regular authorized agents, and every subscriber will receive a certificate signed by the Secretary and Chairman of the Lee Memorial Association. We commend this portrait to the public, and hope some good energetic man will secure the agency in this section in order to help on the good work. Messrs. W. W. Bostwick & Co. Nos. 177 & 179 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio have been constituted and appointed General Manager of Agencies, and any communication addressed to them, for circulars, for terms, and certificates, will receive prompt attention.

That Favorite Home Remedy,

PAIN-KILLER,

Has been before the public over thirty years, and probably has a wider and better reputation then any other proprietary medicine of the present day. At this period there are but few unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but, while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally; while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say, that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally. It is sufficient evidence of its virtues as a standard medicine to know that it is now used in all parts of the world, and that its sales is constantly increasing. No curative agent has had such a wide spread sale or given such universal satisfaction.

Davis' Pain Killer is a purely vegetable compound, prepared from the best and purest materials, and with a care that insures the most perfect uniformity in the medicine; and while it is a most effective remedy for pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine, even in the most unskilful hands.

It is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort, will save many an hour of suffering, and many a dollar in time and doctor's bills.

After over thirty years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues, from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent Physicians commend it as a most effectual preperation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery, or Cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint, it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the great cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and all other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an invaluable medicine.

We would caution the public against all imitations of our preparation, either in name, or style of putting up.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends; and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds Just a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified, and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long-continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
